DR. A. R. WENTZ ELKS' SPEAKER HERE ON SUNDAY

"Part of the immortality of these departed friends lies in our thoughts of them," Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, said Sunday evening during the annual memorial service conducted by the Gettysburg lodge of Elks for the members who died during the last year.

Pointing out that "what we do, for good or for evil, has its influence even to the shores of eternity," the seminary head added "I would like to think that these departed brothers have written their lives on our hearts to endure forever."

"We owe a duty to these who have departed to maintain a sense of union with them. We can no longer walk with them, but they are much more real, for we can have a spiritual union with them. The bonds of our affection have no limits in time or space. There are members of this order all over the world, but we feel a kinship with them through common interests, rituals and fraternal activities. We have common bonds through fraternity back through time to the first founders of the Elks and into the future to all members of the future. And thus too we can maintain our fraternal spirit with those who are departed from this world."

Honor Two Men
"The death of our brothers calls to mind as well our own duties, the fact that death is certain, and the fact that the manner of our days is the manner of our life. 'Whosoever doeth the will of God abideth forever,' and it is up to us to run the race of life. A racer seeking the prize puts aside all weight and wears but the lightest of clothing that he might not be hindered in his efforts to win. We in the race of life should put aside the weights of sin that we may win our goal."

ELDER L. SHEELY FATALLY BURNED AT LITTLESTOWN

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Elder L. Sheely, 73-year-old Littlestown foundry worker, who burned to death Saturday night at 9:50 o'clock in a pit near his trailer-cabin home while neighbors searched for him in vain through his blazing dwelling fearing he was trapped there.

As reconstructed by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, Sheely, who has lived alone since his wife died in 1941, caught fire from a kerosene lamp in the trailer. He then ran out of the building with his clothes afire, and fell headlong into a hole in the ground about seven feet deep and eight feet wide, where he eventually was found, burned over his entire body, crouched on his hands and knees with his face against the ground.

Neighbors, Doctor Crist said, saw the fire in the trailer, which was parked to the rear of Charles street in Littlestown on property belonging to the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company. They ran to the trailer and sent an alarm to the Littlestown fire company. The neighbors feared the elderly man had been trapped in the cabin and searched the blazing structure as best they could. Later they heard a moan and searched about the exterior, finally finding the body, still aflame, in the pit where Sheely had fallen in his flight.

No Foul Play
Dr. Arthur C. Richards was called but the man was dead. In turn called Coroner Crist. A post mortem was conducted Sunday by Doctor Crist and Dr. C. Harold Johnson. They found that the man was burned all over the body, but discovered no evidence of foul play. State police from the Gettysburg sub-station, led by Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, were called and also conducted an investigation.

The fire in the trailer was soon extinguished without great damage to the structure. Doctor Crist said that Sheely apparently had been attempting to add kerosene to the lamp when his clothing caught fire.

Wife Died In 1941
The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the J. W. Little and son funeral parlor, Littlestown, with the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiating.

SHARP SETBACK FOR REDS TODAY AS STRIKE FOLDS

By CARL HARTMAN

Paris, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGL) suffered a sharp setback today when a two-day strike of Paris subway and bus workers, scheduled to begin this morning, apparently collapsed.

At the same time a five-day "warning strike" of government workers, called by the CGL in an attempt to pull approximately 1,200,000 civil servants off their jobs, was meeting with dubious success.

The strike started for some groups of government employees last Friday and was due to extend to all departments this morning, but government officials declared their offices were functioning normally.

Called "A Failure"

A spokesman for the Paris transport system said the subway and bus strike had been called off by the union because it was "a failure."

Headquarters of the CGL-affiliate which called the strike confirmed that it had been "annulled," but declined to give the reason.

The strike vote had been carried by a strong majority of union members at a closed meeting last night after a central strike committee composed of CGL members had rejected Premier Robert Schuman's offer of a cost-of-living money indemnity for workers.

Fewer Trains

Public transportation workers holding members in two other union groups had opposed the work stoppage, called by the strike committee to enforce demands for a general wage increase.

Despite statements by transport authorities that subway service was normal, subway riders noted that there seemed to be fewer trains than usual and that they did not seem to be running at their usual speed.

However, the management of the lines attributed the difficulties to funeral services for Gen. Philippe Leclerc, world war II hero, which drew thousands of Parisians to Notre Dame cathedral and congested traffic.

"FRIENDSHIP" FOOD ON WAY

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Eight million pounds of food collected on the Friendship Train was enroute to France today on the U. S. lines. Freight American leader, with arrival at Le Havre scheduled about a week before Christmas.

After a pier ceremony, the freighter sailed yesterday with the first Friendship Train shipment for the hungry.

Ludovic Chancel, French consul general at New York accepted the food in behalf of France and expressed thanks to the American people and the agencies involved in the collection and to the steamship company for transporting the food without charge.

The ceremony was recorded for future beaming to France in the "Voice of America" broadcast.

On the side of the ship were large white letters reading "Friendship Shop Cargo" and "Gifts of food from U. S. to France."

The freighter, then partially loaded with friendship contributions, sailed from Philadelphia for New York ten days ago and the loading was completed from a stockpile here.

Three more ships are set to carry more of the 500-odd railroad carloads of food to France and Italy. The next shipment, scheduled for December 12 aboard an American export lines ship, will be to Italy.

State To Get Cash Found In Basement

Philadelphia, Dec. 8 (AP)—The $92,800 in small bills which Benjamin Lieberman found in the basement of his South Philadelphia home last March will be claimed by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

B. Graeme Frazier, Jr., appointed by the state as escheator, said Saturday he will file in Common Pleas court in the next few weeks a formal state claim for the money under the commonwealth's Escheatment Act of 1889.

Lieberman, who said he found the cash in a box in a dark section of the cellar, has disclaimed the money as his own.

Frazier said the court probably will set a date when claimants—there number about 400—will be heard. If none establishes ownership of the money, Frazier said he will ask for a court order turning over the cash to the state. The court will determine if Lieberman is to receive an award and its amount.

The necessity for placing Christianity above secular interests in life was emphasized by Dr. Hazen G. Werner, professor of Christian social relations at Drew university, in a sermon on the Methodist-Presbyterian Sunday Evening Hour at the Methodist church.

Calling for an end to the current "casual, incidental attitude" toward the church and its work by many of its members, Dr. Werner urged his hearers to "take Christianity more seriously. Put it first in your lives."

Things Of The Soil

Common Diseases Of Poultry Most diseases of poultry, certainly those likely to cause a heavy death rate, belong to the group roughly designated as infectious and contagious. Again, these are roughly divided into three groups—diseases caused by a specific germ, those communicated by a filtrable virus, and those caused by fungi (molds).

Among prominent germ-transmitted poultry diseases are white diarrhea (called pullorum disease), cholera, fowl typhoid, paratyphoid infection, tuberculosis, septicemia, and a group of diseases classified as coryza, which includes roup, colds, rhinitis and coryza.

White diarrhea causes heavy losses among baby chicks. It is transmitted mainly through infected eggs, with chicks having the disease voiding enormous numbers of germs to spread the infection. There is no medical treatment. The only practical course is to test poultry and eliminate known carriers.

In both cholera and typhoid outbreaks it is important to detect all hens early and remove them from the flock. In both diseases final proof is determined by examining the internal organs.

Avian tuberculosis is so widespread in its potential danger that every flock owner should obtain a copy of the government's Farmers' Bulletin 1,652—Diseases Of Poultry, and study carefully the symptoms attending the trouble and note particularly the illustrations of distinguishing symptoms. Copies of this publication are free on request to members of Congress.

Flock diseases of the roup, colds and rhinitis group are closely related to lowered physical resistance and the arrival of winter with its flock restrictions. Prevention here pays excellent dividends.

The so-called virus diseases are usually attended by heavy death rates and extreme difficulty in curbing the outbreaks. They include fowl pox (diphtheria, influenza (flu), bronchitis, avian leukosis, and epidermal tremor, the last bearing the quite difficult name of encephalomyelitis.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the wisdom of all poultry owners learning the common symptoms of these virus ailments so stricken birds can be detected early before they have spread the disease to all members of the flock.

Among poultry diseases caused by fungi (molds) are aspergillosis, often believed identical with pneumonia of chicks, the mouth and crop trouble known as thrush, white comb (favus), and perhaps one or more minor ills.

Aspergillosis is a good example of how much sanitation plays its important role in preventing flock ills. This disease is usually introduced in the mold which forms in straw or chaff used as litter or in moldy grain fed the birds. In all cases where chicks die from brooder pneumonia or adult birds from aspergillosis the victims' bodies should be removed at once and burned.

Here is a poultry disease that is always fatal. Affected chicks may die within a few days, older fowls in one to four weeks.

A Live Christmas Tree Indoors

Mention of a "live" Christmas tree usually suggests an outdoor specimen which, of course, fails to measure up to the traditional indoor tree on which Santa Claus can work the full magic of his nocturnal transformation. But this recommendation applies to an indoor tree, one with at least three tremendous advantages over an ordinary tree—(1) A more beautiful and fragrant Christmas tree; (2) A tree which can later be transplanted to the home grounds and thereby actually enhance its value; and (3) A practice to conserve our dwindling stand of native evergreens.

There are three steps to consider in obtaining and enjoying a live Christmas tree. First, a suitable specimen is purchased from a nursery or ordered through a local representative. In most cases it is advisable to visit a nursery and choose the tree personally. It may be one of the several species, a fir, pine, hemlock or other species or variety of hardy evergreen that combines both its suitability for Christmas and harmonizing adaptation to its permanent role in the home grounds.

With its roots properly burlapped to prevent injury from exposure to air and sun during its journey from the nursery to home, the evergreen is immediately transplanted to a tub or other suitable container and then placed in an outdoor nook where it will enjoy fresh air without exposure to prevailing winds or excessive sunshine. Spraying the foliage with a fine mist every day or two will likely prove beneficial.

The second step is its Christmas service indoors. The tree is retained in its container and moved indoors to the room where it is wanted. Here in its fresh growing condition it brings its full measure of evergreen aroma and attractiveness. The container can easily be decorated to conceal its outlines. Again it may be wise to spray the foliage every day or slightly more frequently with a fine mist of water to avoid injuries from high indoors temperatures and dry air.

The third step is simple but important. As soon as the tree has served its decorative role indoors it should be moved to its permanent home in the lawn. If there is a likelihood of inclement weather after Christmas—and there usually is in this latitude—soil should be prepared in advance for the final planting site and covered liberally with dry vegetation to prevent freezing or excessive soakings by rain. When the cover is removed after Christmas the site will be found ready to receive the tree.

Planting is no different in methods than at any other time of the year. If possible, the tree should be moved from its temporary container without exposing or disturbing the roots.

Plenty of rich loam should be placed in the bottom of the hole and used to firm well around and over the well spread roots. Watering liberally will settle the soil. And to avoid the danger of moisture shortage later, especially during freezing weather over winter, it may be wise to mulch the soil surface heavily with dry vegetation and thereby prevent the rooting area from freezing. Then occasionally a thorough soaking will insure plenty of moisture until the tree is thoroughly adjusted in its new home.

Potted Parsley Used All Winter

If one or several parsley plants are potted before severe freezing temperatures affect the leaves and taken into the house, sprigs for garnishing will be available all winter. Take them with a good clump of soil, to reduce root disturbance to a minimum, and pot rather firmly. A heavy watering will settle the soil. Place in a sunny window of the coolest room available or on the unheated sun porch. At the time of transplanting take off all the oldest leaves to compensate for the unavoidable loss of roots in transplanting.

To prevent most of this shock next year, sink several six-inch flower pots where the seeds are to be sown and in thinning the plants take care that each pot has at least one strong plant. At the time they are taken up next fall some of the roots will have grown through the drainage hole; where this is the case cut them off with a sharp knife.

WILL TOUR PLANT

Gettysburg Lions club members will tour the Inductive Equipment corporation plant this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock preliminary to their weekly dinner meeting at the Shetter House, at 6 p. m. There will be a brief entertainment program after the dinner.

A warning to hitch-hikers was issued today by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, following receipt of complaints from residents in the vicinity of Steinwehr avenue and Baltimore street. The chief said that all hitch-hikers will be arrested, effective immediately.

Philadelphia, Dec. 8 (AP)—Fire swept a North Philadelphia building today destroying 15 automobiles in a used car agency, burning out a social club and causing damage estimated by firemen at $95,000. More than 200 persons stood in the early-morning drizzle to watch firemen pour tons of water on the structure.

TRUMAN STARTS BACK TO CAPITAL

Key West, Fla., Dec. 8 (AP)—President Truman ended a five-day Florida vacation today and departed for Washington aboard his official plane to complete a message to Congress on plans for long range European recovery.

He was due in Washington at 3 p. m.

Refreshed and sun-tanned by five days of relaxation at his "little White House" here, Mr. Truman appeared in excellent physical condition. He had shaken off the weariness displayed upon his arrival last Wednesday.

The President spent most of his time here catching up on lost sleep, sunbathing and swimming. He flew to Everglades City, Fla., Saturday for a speech dedicating the Everglades National park.

The speech, before an audience officially estimated at 4,500, was largely devoted to the administration's natural resources conservation policy.

While Mr. Truman directed sharp criticism at what he called "hogs" who would use resources for the benefit of the few, he did not name names.

On the peaceful seventh anniversary of Pearl Harbor, the President attended services at the submarine base chapel where he has rested since Wednesday, then went for a swim and sun-bath near old Fort Taylor.

STEELER TEAM HONORS CENTER

By DUKE MORAN
Pittsburgh, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers today owned their first real chance at a National football league title and vowed their success story was inspired by Chuck Cherundolo—veteran center called "Pop" by his teammates for many things besides age.

In token of their gratitude, they presented the big pivot man 21-jewel wrist watch yesterday a few minutes after they had clinched a tie in the league's eastern division by whipping the Boston Yanks, 17-7. Cherundolo, as 31 is the Steelers' oldest active player, an "old pro" of nine campaigns. The Steelers hardly waited to shed sudden, mud stained football togs before fullback Tony Compagno pulled Cherundolo into an impromptu clubhouse huddle and thrust the watch on him. "We've never made it without you, Chuck," panted Tony, who finds it easier to pick his way through a broken field than to make a speech. "We know who's the best center in this league—you proved it again today."

"Valuable Player" Award
This last was a commentary on Cherundolo's favorite wise crack—that he returned to play a "Young man's game" year after year only "to make all-star center before I quit."

The unexpected "most valuable player" award by his own teammates caught Cherundolo at a loss for words—an unusual situation for a guy who's fast with the repartee.

The 220-pound citizen of Old Forge, Pa., and Penn State graduate "didn't know a thing about this," Compagno said. Tony and Guard Nick Skorich were ringleaders in the plan to honor Cherundolo and the squad unanimously approved the idea with "votes" of their own cash.

Littlestown Cagers Will Play 15 Games

Littlestown high school's boys and girls will play 15-game basketball schedules under the programs announced today.

The schedule for both teams follows:

December 16, Taneytown, at home; 20, alumni, home; January 6, York Springs, home; 9, New Oxford, home; 13, East Berlin, home; 16, Biglerville, away; 27, Boiling Springs, home; February 3, Westminster, home; 6, East Berlin, away; 10, Biglerville, home; 13, New Oxford, away; 20, Boiling Springs, away; 24, Westminster, away; 27, York Springs, away; March 2, Taneytown, away.

On February 17 the Quincy Jayvees will play at Littlestown.

It is estimated that 460,000 houses in Britain were totally destroyed or rendered uninhabitable during World War II.

Colors in the ceramic tiles found in Egyptian buildings built in the 14th and 15th centuries are still vivid.

Bullet Gridders Honored By AP

Left to right are Gene Hummel, guard; Jake Schlegel, tackle, and Joe Cervino, fullback, who received honors in the All-Pennsylvania Collegiate selections announced by the Associated Press. Hummel was placed on the second team while Schlegel and Cervino were given honorable mention.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Most likely to be denied story heard over the week-end is that the big nine family is feuding and fusing over football. . . . The main subject is Purdue's potent freshman squad. . . . Ohio State and Illinois are said to be sored on the Boilermakers because nine Purdue frosh footballers hail from Ohio and two of the better Illinois prep stars suddenly decided to enter Purdue. . . . On top of that come reports of widespread operations in Missouri by Purdue talent scouts. . . . Commissioner Tug Wilson may have been hinting at something of the sort when he recently said, without naming names, that some big nine schools had grown careless about recruiting. . . . If the situation is as hot as we hear, there likely will be something popping at the conference meeting late this week.

MONDAY MATINEE

Billy Herman, who'll get $26,000 for not managing the Pirates this season, still is looking for a minor league managerial post. And the guy who'll be helping him make connections at this week's major league meetings is none other than Roy Hamer, the one who fired Billy. . . . Tippy Larkin can get $12,500 to box Frankie Fernandez, the island favorite, at Honolulu in January. . . . New Jersey basketball fan are riled because Seton Hall's Bob Wanzer was declared ineligible for basketball and the next day Ordham's Bob Mulvihill was okayed under almost the same circumstances. Before Seton Hall could ask for a recount, Wanzer had signed with the Rochester Pros.

END OF THE LINE

Hottest baseball battle at Miami last week was over an amendment which would increase the number of rookies allowed on each minor league club. The farm teams favored it, but for once the independents won out. Some observers believe that ten-club major league proposal isn't dead. The coast league's bid for semi-major status is bound to fail this week and the figuring is that the strong coast teams will then try to branch out for themselves.

PENN STATE SELECTED

CARDS DEFEAT EAGLES; PITT STEELERS WIN ACROSS STATE

By RALPH RODEN

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—While the All-America Football conference is settling its championship next Sunday, the rival National league will be attempting to decide its divisional titlists. The Cleveland Browns clash with the Yankees in New York for the All-America title. At the same time the Chicago Cardinals and the Chicago Bears will meet in the Windy City for the National's western half crown while the Philadelphia Eagles entertain the Green Bay Packers with the eastern half flag at stake.

A crushing 45-21 Cardinal triumph over the Eagles and Los Angeles' 17-14 surprise victory over the Bears yesterday set the stage for next Sunday's important conflicts in the National loop.

In Second Place
The defeat dropped the Eagles to second place, a half game behind the Pittsburgh Steelers, who vaulted to the top after their 17-7 win over the Boston Yanks. The Steelers have completed their schedule and the Eagles must whip the Packers to stay in the picture.

An Eagle triumph over the Packers will deadlock the eastern half race and necessitate a play-off for the title.

In remaining National league encounters, the New York Giants trounced the Washington Redskins, 35-10, and the Packers toppled the Detroit Lions, 35-14.

Meanwhile, the Yanks and Browns tuned up for their All-America title battle. The Yanks beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 20-17, and Browns topped the Baltimore Colts, 42-0.

On the Pacific coast, the Los Angeles Rams rambled to a 34-14 decision over the Chicago Rockets and the San Francisco 49ers battled the Buffalo Bills to a 21-21 stalemate in the conference's other game.

Walcott's Manager To Argue For Title

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—A contention that Joe Walcott should be declared heavyweight boxing champion of the world was to be laid before the New York Boxing commission today with every indication that if Jersey Joe gets the title he'll have to fight for it again.

And that, incidentally, is the big talk now—a second meeting next summer between the Cinderella challenger and Joe Louis, who gained a split, torridly-disputed decision in

COURT BATTLES IN FULL SWING

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Philadelphia, Dec. 8 (AP)—The mythical Pennsylvania collegiate basketball title chase was in full swing today with Temple university, St. Joseph's college and LaSalle college—perennial court powers—off to fast starts.

The season's first convention hall doubleheader program Saturday night found Temple slipping past a slick Muhlenberg five that is destined to cause plenty of trouble in the east, and St. Joseph's disposing of the University of Denver in surprisingly easy fashion, 59 to 41.

Muhlenberg in dropping its opener, 56 to 53 displayed a fast team with able performers in Harry Donovan, Harry Mackin and Al Sammer. The Mule just can't lick that Temple jinx—dropping their sixth straight to Owl court teams.

Other Results
Westminster, always a threat for title honors, opened its campaign on a high note as it trampled Slippery Rock Teachers' 66 to 36. Duquesne 1946-47 mythical state basketball king, was idle. The Golden Dukes opened with Brigham Young at Pittsburgh Tuesday.

Allegheny college tripped St. Vincent of Lestrobe 62 to 50 and California Teachers' fell before Bethany 56 to 52.

Out of state games involving Pennsylvania teams saw Susquehanna trounced by Alfred university 60 to 26; East Stroudsburg led by Rider college 56 to 43, and Bucknell downed by Cornell 58 to 34.

LaSalle won two games during the week, trouncing Millersville Teachers' 63 to 47 and edging Loyola (Baltimore) 64 to 62.

Villanova's sophomore team watched a 10 point halftime edge evaporate and lost to Manhattan college (New York) 52 to 48. The main line Wildcats had won their opener over St. Mary's college 53 to 51.

Elizabethtown college edged Bloomsburg, with earlier in the week also lost to Temple. Frankie Keath, high scoring Elizabethtown ace, paced his team to a 64 to 60 overtime victory.

The 24th defense of his crown last Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

It's that decision which Walcott's manager, Joe Webster, wants to talk about—and protest—in his tete-a-tete this morning with Commission Chairman Eddie Egan.

POLL NOT OUT BUT IRISH GET WESTERN VOTES

By BILL BECKER

Los Angeles, Dec. 8 (AP)—Two topics seem certain to keep the football hot stove circuit sizzling long through the winter:

Is the Notre Dame team which skewered Southern California, 38-7, Saturday the greatest yet to represent the South Bend school?

Can Michigan's Big Nine champions be as good as the 1947 Irish? Some sort of answer to the second question may be had January 1 when Michigan meets Southern California—Ah, those reckless Trojans!—in the Rose Bowl. But the answer probably will come too late to do the Wolverines much good.

"Greatest Team"
As far as West Coast experts are concerned, Notre Dame is national champion, although the final Associated Press ballot isn't out yet.

Most veteran observers agreed with Coach Frank Leahy that it "was perhaps the greatest game a Notre Dame team has ever played." And most went further than Leahy, who refused to rate his 1947 squad ahead of the 1930 team—the last all-winning Irish club. On that team, incidentally, Leahy played tackle.

The resounding victory—Trojan heads are ringing yet—gave the South Bend Ramblers a clean sweep of a nine-game schedule, and 291 points total to opponents' 52.

Bears Deadlocked With Providence

(By The Associated Press)

The Hershey Bears and the surprising Providence Reds are deadlocked for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Hockey league today while the fast-stepping Pittsburgh Hornets enjoy a four-point edge of the Buffalo Bisons in the Western half chase.

Providence moved into a tie with the Bears over the week-end by winning one of its two starts while the Bears bowed, 4-3 and 6-1, to Buffalo and the Indianapolis Capitals, respectively.

After losing, 4-3, to Springfield Saturday, the Reds bounced back and trounced the St. Louis Flyers, 10-3, with veteran Harvey Fraser leading the way with three goals and two assists.

By winning, the Caps snapped their third place Western Division stalemate with the Cleveland Barons, who downed the New Haven Ramblers, 4-2, in their lone outing of the week-end Saturday.

The Ramblers also took it on the chin yesterday, bowing to the Bisons, 5-3. Floyd Curry scored two goals for the Bisons and Bing Juckes netted two of the Ramblers' tallies.

Pittsburgh stretched its unbeaten-at-home streak to 13 games by humbling the Washington Lions, 4-3 Saturday, when the Philadelphia Rockets battled the Flyers to a 3-3 tie.

Omaha, Dec. 8 (AP)—Carl P. Schott, secretary of the U. S. Olympic boxing committee, has been elected manager of the Olympic boxing team.

The committee also announced yesterday that the final Olympic tryouts will be held at Boston next July 12 and 13.

Tokyo, Dec. 8 (AP)—Pete Cicconi, of Donora, Pa., and Dick Pitzer, of Connellsville, Pa., were among the stars yesterday as the First Cavalry football team battered General Headquarters, 64 to 6, in a Pearl Harbor bowl game to go into a Japan Service League deadlock with the 11th Airborne.

San Francisco, Dec. 8 (AP)—Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame football star, who makes his home in Connellsville, Pa., has agreed to play with the Eastern team in the annual New Year's Day East-West game here.

It also was announced yesterday that Lujack and Bob Polidor, of Villanova, were awarded berths on the 1947 All-Catholic football team.

The Eastern team in the San Francisco game will be coached by Bernie Bierman, of Minnesota, aided by Andy Kerr, of Lebanon Valley college.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 8 (AP)—Missouri Valley, of Marshall, Mo., has agreed to meet West Chester Teachers' college in the Cigar Bowl football game here on New Year's Day.

West Chester is unbeaten this season in 10 games, including a Burley Bowl win Thanksgiving Day over Carson-Newman college.

ICC Allows Raises For Some Railroads

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today authorized increases in first class passenger fares on western railroads and in passenger coach fares on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

The increase effective on all lines operating west of the Mississippi river amounts to 6.66 per cent for travel in sleeping and parlor cars.

This brings these charges even with the rate schedules authorized

MAJOR LEAGUES WILL DISCUSS TRADE, RULES

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—The annual major league conclave does not officially begin until tomorrow, but the Baseball David Harums may beat the gun with announcement of the all-but-closed three-way deal involving Dixie Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Billy Cox of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Eddie Waitkus of the Chicago Cubs.

That is only one of at least a half dozen transactions of major importance that may be completed at the three-day sessions here.

Sparks To Fly

Sparks are expected to fly when the magnates take up clarification of the rule restricting tampering with high school players. It was this rule which touched off the Leslie O'Connor rumpus when Commissioner A. B. Chandler fined the Chicago White Sox general manager $500 for signing a high school youth. For a while O'Connor refused to pay the fine and threatened to carry the case to the courts, but finally yielded when the American league owners upheld Chandler.

The Pacific coast again will present its plea for big league recognition at Thursday's joint meeting. Should the majors refuse, as is likely, Coast President Clarence Rowland will seek a compromise, requesting a major-minor classification which would place the PLC just under the big leagues and over the two other triple A's.

Other matter to come before the majors are consideration of the St. Louis Browns' plea for unlimited night baseball and further discussion of a college coaches' plan to outlaw signing of college players until their class has graduated.

Consider Amendments

The 10-team idea in the National and American leagues, which came to light at the Miami minor league convention, is due to be brought out in the open at the joint meeting. The idea was first suggested by Commissioner Chandler after the executive council had voted against the coast's plan for major league status.

The majors also will consider 22 of the 41 amendments to baseball law adopted by the minors last week. The 22 are part of the major-minor agreement and must be passed by the majors before they become effective. No serious squabble is expected over any of this legislation.

With the exception of Leo Durocher, the "forgiven" manager of the Dodgers, all 16 big league pilots will be on hand. Durocher, rehired only Saturday by the Brooks, has flown back to Los Angeles.

LARINE WILL STICK WITH LEO

Santa Monica, Calif., Dec. 8 (AP)—Wherever Leo Durocher goes, there Actress Laraine Day is going also, and an abrogated film contract with plentiful ciphers stood today as proof of her intentions.

Miss Day, whose marriage to the articulate baseball man has been beset by many adverse influences from without, announced that she has cancelled her six-year contract with RKO studio so that she can be with Durocher, newly reinstated manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers during the coming major league baseball season.

The beauteous actress did not disclose how much the contract would have netted her. One movie columnist set the figure arbitrarily at a million dollars, and the way film salaries run, that doesn't seem much out of line.

"I'll follow the Dodgers as long as Leo is with them," reporters were told by Miss Day, who, until her romance with Durocher, professed not the slightest interest in baseball. She said her plans included accompanying Durocher to the Dodgers'.

WALKER, GREGG AND LOMBARDI GO TO PIRATES

Brooklyn, Dec. 8 (AP)—Dixie Walker, hard-hitting Brooklyn outfielder and pitchers Victor Lombardi and Hal Gregg were traded today to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Shortstop William Cox and two other players, Branch Rickey announced.

No cash was involved, said Rickey, in revealing one of the most important trades of the year.

In addition to Cox the Dodgers acquired Elwin (Preacher) Roe, a left-handed pitcher, and Gene Mauch, utility infielder, who had gone to Pittsburgh early in the season from Brooklyn in another deal.

Another Deal "Maybe"

Walker wound up the season with an unofficial batting average of .306, compared with Cox' .274.

The Dodgers already have one of the best infield combinations in the majors with Eddie Stanky at second and Pee Wee Reese at shortstop.

Branch Rickey, Jr., in commenting on the trade, declared "there may be another deal in a couple of days, with Pittsburgh or with others."

The trading of Walker has been rumored for several weeks, but Rickey said the papers were not actually signed until this morning.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 25th, the day recommended by Gov. Shunk as a day of Thanksgiving, was very generally observed by our citizens, so as regarded cessation from business and attendance upon religious exercises. Professor Baugher officiated in the Presbyterian church in the morning; and Dr. Watson in the English Lutheran church in the evening. The prayer to the Throne of Grace, on Thanksgiving evening, by Dr. Schmucker, was peculiarly impressive.

The day was observed in eighteen of the States of the Union.

Married: On the 24th ult., by the Rev. James C. Watson D.D., Mr. Jacob H. Wisler, of Lancaster county, to Miss Margaretta, daughter of Mr. James Bowen, of this borough.

On the 26th of October, at Cone-wago chapel, by Rev. Mr. Enders, Mr. Peter A. Strasbaugh, to Miss Agnes Weaver, both of Mountpleasant township.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. B. Keller, Mr. Samuel Mowry, to Miss Leah, daughter of Mr. John Haines, of Menallen township.

Mr. Alexander W. Russell (son of Mr. Robert Russell, formerly of Gettysburg), has returned from Mexico to his father's in Rockville, Md., in a very enfeebled condition. He was in Capt. Walker's company. He was taken sick at Perote on the 4th of June and was unable to be with his company at the battle of Huamantla, where his gallant captain fell.

Donations to Ireland: It appears from a partial statement made and further estimates, that the value of donations from the U. States to Ireland, in kind and money, private and public, during the late year, cannot fall far short of a million and a half of dollars!

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Local Items: Rabbit hunters must remember that they are not allowed to continue their slaughter after the first of January.

Deer Shot: Several deer were shot in the South Mountain, in Menallen township, last week. Samuel McCausland securing one which weighed 110 pounds clean meat. Alexander Warren also got a large buck, and Leonard Taylor a fawn. The Taylors saw seven deer in one flock.

We understand that the receipts at the Dinner and Supper last week, in aid of Evergreen cemetery, netted about $150. The ladies who got up the dinner and supper deserve much credit for the tact and energy displayed by them. Besides furnishing a capital feast of good things to those who partook of them, they have done a good work for the cemetery.

On Wednesday Mr. J. Howard Wert, teacher of School No. 5, in this place, assigned to his pupils the names of prominent officers who had figured in military history with the rank of general. Next morning J. Harry Flemming, aged nine years, son of Mr. A. W. Flemming, furnished the names of 411 generals. The next highest number was 350, furnished by a daughter of Mr. Joseph Martin, of about the same age.

The Reynolds Statue: The bronze statue of Gen. John P. Reynolds, who fell at the opening of the Battle of Gettysburg, July 1, 1863, was placed on the granite pedestal in the National cemetery on Wednesday. Its cost is about $10,000—the money being raised by the First Army corps, which Gen. Reynolds commanded at the time of his death. The statue was cast from condemned cannon furnished by the State of Pennsylvania. It will be an additional attraction to the National cemetery.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE TIE THAT BINDS
A man's word, accepted because you have confidence in it, needs no other endorsements. It is the tie that binds. Any agreement, in which there is a lack of confidence, is not worth the paper on which it is written.

The elder J. P. Morgan once stated that he would, or had, loaned a million dollars on the character of the man alone. And in all walks of life a man is often backed with enthusiasm because of the confidence placed in him. We back our government only so long as we have confidence in the ones who are our representatives. If we lose our confidence in them we replace them.

Confidence in ourselves is the tie that binds us to a sure success. We put ourselves in the hands of the railroad engineer, on our travels, and we have confidence in the Captain of the ship that we take for a trip on the sea. We put ourselves in the hands of a physician or surgeon, because we have confidence in him.

Lack of confidence is almost sure to end in tragedy. That is how important it is never to lose this confidence. It's what holds friends to us. We dismiss from us those in whom we have no confidence. We learn to trust authorities—our histories, our scientists, and our newspapers, because we have this confidence in them.

Certain marks assert confidence in an article, like the name "Sterling" on silver, and the signatures of the creators of fine furniture, and an endless number of artistic creations. That "hall mark" means everything. It asserts genuineness.

We work, and live better, when we have confidence in the future. We know that we must go on. No matter what the confusion and doubts, no matter what the setbacks, we know that we must do our share to make this a better world in which to live. If we all had confidence that we can make this a better world, it would be a better world. Each of us has an individual responsibility, and if we can make our influence felt far and wide so much the better.

Confidence is the tie that binds all through life. We even like to trade in stores where we have confidence in the merchandise carried. Recently I had my eyes fitted by a firm that once made the glasses for Abraham Lincoln! That fact alone gave me confidence in their wares.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Stuff of Experience."

SITTER FAILURE

These modern days have modern woes.

There's little, blemish free.
Our every joy some care bestows.
With gain a loss may be.
Now disappointment strikes a blow

Which leaves young parents glum;
On nights when out they'd planned to go,
The sitter doesn't come.

To use this grief was never known.
To keep engagements made,
We needn't leave our babes alone;
With them their grandma stayed.

But best laid plans are tinged with doubt.

Today young mothers fear
The night when they're invited out
The sitter won't appear.

At last a call upon the phone:
"The hour is growing late.
We'd hoped to come, but we're alone.

For us no longer wait."
The mother in her loveliest gown,
The dad in tux or tails,
At home must calmly settle down
Because the sitter fails.

THINGS LOOK

BRIGHTER FOR FRANCE TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The French cabinet, strengthened by the drastic new strike-control law, continued its determined counter-offensive over the week-end against Communist efforts to cause the downfall of the government and create a state of chaos to render the Marshall plan unworkable.

Upon the outcome of this Moscow-directed Bolshevik assault depends in large degree not only the immediate fate of France but of all western Europe.

Some 1,000 people charged with sabotage in connection with strikes have been arrested. Under the new law a penalty of ten years in prison can be assessed for sabotage, which is defined as any act that makes a piece of machinery cease to function. Armed police, who have been ordered to use their guns in self defense, appeared to have the upper hand in most parts of the country. Troops were on duty in critical areas.

Cold Fact Remains
So things were looking considerably brighter for the harassed government. However, the cold fact remained that more than 2,000,000 workers were striking under orders of their Communist-dominated national committee to "hold firm for the last quarter hour that will decide the victory." The country was terribly crippled.

Meantime in London Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov had the Big Four Foreign Ministers tied in knots as he continued to throw tactics in the path of the democracies who are trying to bring peace and rehabilitation to Europe. Moscow had made it clear it doesn't want peace until it can impose its own kind of Red peace. The consensus of impartial observers is the Russia is stalling in the London conference partly to see how the Bolshevik upheavals in France and Italy turn out, and partly to make herself appear the champion of Germany by yelling "stop thief!" at the American-British-French policy for the Reich.

Astonishing Enough
One of the most extraordinary aspects of this situation is that with war to the knife—"cold" but still war—going on between Russia and the western democracies, five of the latter actually have trade delegations in Moscow trying to negotiate for purchase of Soviet goods. They are Britain, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway and Sweden.

That's astonishing enough, but listen to this: France and Italy while having no special trade delegations in the Russian capital, are said in Moscow to have indicated serious interest in purchasing Russian grain. And both France and Italy actually are in a state of virtual revolution as the result of the Red drive.

Of course those suppliants for Russian aid are in the position of not having the wherewithal to purchase necessities in the other available markets. It certainly is an ironic circumstance, however, that they should have to turn to the great power which openly is doing its utmost to bring them under its domination.

Death Of Schoolgirl Being Investigated

Cape May Court House, N. J., Dec. 8 (AP)—An investigation was under way today into the circumstances of the death of a 14-year-old high school girl, found yesterday on the front seat of a parked automobile, with a 28-year-old male companion unconscious beside her.

Cape May County Coroner Kenneth Matlack said preliminary examination showed the death of Joan S. Tanghare, of Mayville, was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

County Prosecutor Harry Tenenbaum said the man with her, who was found unconscious on the driver's seat of the auto, was identified as George F. Garrison, a next-door neighbor. Tenenbaum said the auto was out of gasoline and the ignition was turned on.

Electrocute Pin Boy For Robbery-Murder

Bellefonte, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—William Chavis, 22-year-old pin boy, was electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary today for the robbery-slaying of a University of Pennsylvania student May 11, 1946.

The Philadelphia Negro bowling alley worker was pronounced dead by Dr. Ralph Carrier, prison physician, at 12:34 a. m. (EST), three minutes after he had entered the death chamber.

Chavis' execution came after he young a man to so responsible an office.

It is due to the retiring sheriff, Mr. Klunk, to say that he made an efficient officer. The same may be said of his son, who acted as Deputy sheriff.

A Fine Record: On the 25th ult., Mrs. Sarah Hartzell, who lived to the ripe old age of 90 years, died in Baltimore. She was born in Adams county, Pa., and married at the age of sixteen years. At the age of fifty-five she went to Baltimore. She was the mother of seven children, seventy-nine grandchildren, one hundred and five great-grandchildren, in all one hundred and ninety-one.

Costly Crashes And Fires On Turnpike

Bedford, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—State police estimated a total of $90,000 worth of damage was caused by fires which destroyed two trucks in separate accidents on the Pennsylvania turnpike last night.

A vehicle owned by the Shires Motor Freight company, Lancaster, and carrying a load of miscellaneous merchandise burned up about 26 miles east of Midway, Pa. Police said a hot tire caused the conflagration after the driver had stopped to repair a blowout. An insurance firm placed the loss at $60,000, police said.

Another blowout 46 miles east of Midway turned over a truck belonging to the Wheeling, N. Y., Motor Lines and resulted in the explosion of a cargo of lacquer. Police estimated the damage at $30,000.

There were no injuries.

Jobless Waitress Held For Robbery

Philadelphia, Dec. 8 (AP)—Joyce Brown, 22-year-old unemployed waitress, was charged with hold-up and robbery at gunpoint today after Detective Sgt. William Martucci said she had forced a motorist to help her loot his home.

The detective said the motorist, Clement B. Hoskins, 26, of nearby Gladwyn, told him yesterday the girl stopped his car by standing in the middle of the road and then told him she was ill.

Hoskins offered to take her to a doctor, Martucci quoted him as saying, but before they had driven far the girl pulled a revolver from her coat and forced Hoskins to drive to his home.

There, the detective said, the girl made Hoskins help her load jewelry, clothing and silverware into the car. She was arrested several hours later, Martucci said, when police found the stolen car parked in front of a house where they found her.

The Nation must have It

What is IT?

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

7 JEWS DIE IN FIGHTING TODAY IN PALESTINE

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

Jerusalem, Dec. 8 (AP)—Seven Jews died in communal fighting in Palestine today as both Jews and Arabs stepped up mobilization efforts for an anticipated showdown over the partitioning of the Holy Land.

Five Jews were slain by Arab gunfire in the bloody border area between the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv and all-Arab Jaffa. Arab stores and homes in the border region were set afire during the fighting.

Another Jew was killed by gunfire on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway and a seventh was stabbed to death in Jerusalem. Seven Arabs and one Jew were killed last night.

Suspect Zero Hour

The killings brought to 88 the unofficial count of fatalities in the Holy Land since the United Nations announced its decision on the partitioning of Palestine nine days ago. Sharing the spotlight with the situation in Palestine were developments in Cairo, where leaders of the seven member nations of the Arab league met to decide the steps they should take to prevent implementation of the partitioning plan.

Some observers thought that the meeting might fix a zero hour for a general Arab uprising throughout the middle east.

Crowds of Arabs were reported lining up before "recruiting centers" in all middle eastern countries, and in Palestine the Jewish press called Jewish youths to register for security duty at registration places which will be opened tomorrow.

Hebrews To Unite

Irgun Zvai Leumi, extreme underground group, indicated that it was ready to unite with the more moderate Hagana in the event of an open Arab-Jewish war.

Irgun officials issued a communique declaring: "There is no doubt that if this war should break out it will be for the very existence and future of all Jews. In such a war Hebrew forces will unite."

The communique was issued in an envelope inscribed with the words "On His Majesty's Service" and rubber-stamped from the office of the controller of light industries in the Palestine government.

A Palestine government spokesman meanwhile denied press reports that British forces would begin a partial withdrawal from Palestine on December 15.

WIFE CHARGED WITH SLAYING HER HUSBAND

York, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—Harold B. Rudisill, York county district attorney, prepared today to file a formal charge of murder against Mrs. Marian J. Heyneman, 28, in connection with the death of her 37-year-old husband.

Mrs. Heyneman was committed to the York county jail on Saturday after Rudisill said she had signed a statement saying she had shot her husband, William P. Heyneman, in self defense following an argument. The couple have two children, one a 15-month-old daughter, Cheryl, who was kept at the Polyclinic hospital in Harrisburg, where Mrs. Heyneman was admitted last week, apparently suffering a complete loss of memory. The other child, Karen Lynn, aged three, was taken by Heyneman to a neighbor's home last month, and is still there.

Quarreled Frequently

Rudisill said the woman told him there had been several quarrels between her and her husband during the last year and a half.

The district attorney said the woman told him this story concerning an argument on December 3. Heyneman struck her on the head and arms with a flashlight after the argument started.

She said she then went to a closet and got a .22-caliber rifle and shot her husband. He began to bleed from the chest but was still standing when she left the room.

Later, she said, she took the baby and the family car and drove around for several hours before arriving in Harrisburg, where she was found in a dazed condition and taken to the Polyclinic hospital.

Coroner Lester J. Sell issued a certificate on Saturday which stated that Heyneman's death was due to "internal hemorrhage caused by shot wounds."

Legion Goes After Million Signers

Columbus, O., Dec. 8 (AP)—An American Legion campaign to obtain 10,000,000 signatures for petitions supporting universal military training began here today.

James F. O'Neill, National Legion commander, launched the program during a Pearl Harbor Day address at an Ohio commanders' and adjutants' conference. He remarked that Pearl Harbor was the result of "national apathy toward American preparedness, but said the "greatest

(By The Associated Press)

Eighteen Pennsylvanians met violent death over the week-end in a series of mishaps that included fires, highway crashes and two mine accidents.

Elder Sheely, 73, also burned to death as flames destroyed his small shack at Littlestown.

Three persons were killed and four injured at Kittanning yesterday in an auto-truck collision. Those killed were William Manenski, 26, and Thomas Stubbs, 25, both of Kittanning, and William Whited, 23, of Adrian.

Edward Carson, 21, of Dunlevy, and Donald Boyd, 23, of Allentown, were killed yesterday in the crash of their small airplane near the Eclipse coal mine at Roscoe, Washington county.

Two men were killed Saturday in the crash of an All-American aviation airmail pickup plane near Wellsburg, W. Va.—Capt. Thomas Bryan, 32, of Pittsburgh, the pilot, and the flight mechanic, Berger Bechtel, 24, of Johnstown.

Joseph Drockel, 33, of Munhall, was killed by a truck near Greensburg. John G. Azdik, 71, of Brecksville, was found dead at the foot of a flight of stairs in his home. Frank C. Strutzel, 33, of Smith's Mill, was found dead along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Larimer.

'IKE' MAY DOFF UNIFORM JAN. 1

Washington, Dec. 8 (P)—Fresh indications that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may step out of uniform in January coincided today with reports of increased activity in his behalf as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

Although the army chief of staff has been vague about his quitting time, there is evidence that the previous schedule for him to take over the presidency of Columbia university April 1 has been speeded up by President Truman's action in naming Gen. Omar Bradley as his successor.

Bradley, whose transfer from head of the Veterans Administration back to the army was effective last Monday, will be available for his new assignment shortly after January 1. While Eisenhower may remain for a time to advise his successor, friends say that any extended stay is likely to become embarrassing for both men.

Although the five-star general has dodged questions about his availability for the nomination, politicians have begun to count him as a major factor in the race which already has these three publicly announced entrants: Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Governor Earl Warren of California.

Previously talk about Eisenhower as a potential candidate has been described as mostly just talk. But an eastern Republican source, who declined use of his name, told a reporter the back-stage hunt for Eisenhower delegates is actually under-way.

Los Angeles Expects 40,000 '47 Babies

Los Angeles, Dec. 8 (P)—Without the slightest idea of starting another argument with Philadelphia, City Health Officer George M. Uhl said today that 1947 will register a bumper crop of 40,000 babies in Los Angeles.

Taking no credit unto himself, Dr. Uhl reported that this will be about 30 per cent higher than the average for the last five years, and almost 12 per cent above the 1946 figure.

Los Angeles and Philadelphia recently engaged in a debate over which is the nation's third largest city. Los Angeles was able to support its argument with almost everything except statistics.

Only about 150th of the earth's atmosphere is above an altitude of 21 miles.

Chapter 21

"I know you've thrown over a thousand men into this search," Bill O'Reilly said. "But do you feel satisfied with the results?"

Inspector Ryan folded his arms wearily over a sheaf of orders that covered the top of his desk.

"Did you ever try throwing a dragnet around the Lower East Side?" he asked.

"How much of an area are you trying to cover?"

"Every blessed thing from Broadway to the East River, and from Fulton north to Delancey street," Ryan answered.

"Haven't any of those tips I've sent you panned out?" O'Reilly persisted.

Inspector Ryan smiled ironically, picking up a spindly of notes that looked like a ragged-roofed pagoda.

"Here's a few samples," he said, selecting notes at random as he pulled them off the spindly.

"Kidnappers hiding behind an opium den on Doyers street. That turned out to be ten old Chinese gents playing fan-tan in the back room of a chop-suey joint."

He laughed humorlessly.

"Here another. Sicilian Mafia hiding a woman in a flat on Mulberry street. Mafia, my foot! Just a strict old Italian papa locking his 16-year-old daughter in her room to keep her from hanging out with street-corner sharies."

O'Reilly looked slightly sheepish. "Okay," said O'Reilly grudgingly. "But don't forget one of those tips might come through—even one that looks the goofiest. I'd grab at any kind of a feeble straw, if I thought the thousandth try would discover Jean Saunders."

"I'll do the same, you can bet on that," the inspector said with dogged firmness. "And I'd throw my badge into the ashcan before I'd ease up on this hunt. I'm about the only inspector who hasn't been busted or shifted by the Commissioner since this gambling mess blew wide open, but he'll have to make the busting unanimous before I pull one man off this dragnet."

If Bill O'Reilly had any reservations about the thoroughness of the police search, he lost most of them during the next eight hours. Riding in the inspector's car, he watched him check the men of his command.

Early in the evening, the inspector halted to question a detective captain at Bowery and Spring street, in the heart of a flophouse section teeming with alcoholic derelicts.

"Have you checked all the Bowery flop joints?" Inspector Ryan demanded. "I want a complete report on every man in this neighborhood, drunk or sober."

"We've questioned all the ones who were sober enough to talk, inspector," he responded. "But we couldn't get anything out of the pass-out cases." Ryan barked. "Well, load every stiff in the wagon. Jail them 'til they're able to talk straight; if they don't speak English, I'll give you interpreters. But get 'em all, understand?"

He halted again at a row of tenements on Grand street. A hooting crowd had gathered on the sidewalk as a hundred police went through the buildings, room by room. Several of the throng carried placards reading: "We Protest Gestapo Tactics of Police," and "New York's Finest Unfair to Democracy."

Inspector Ryan snorted. "So we're a Gestapo, are we? Maybe those sidewalk Pinkos want us to turn thugs and murderers loose on the people. That's not freedom; it's just giving gangsters the break they need to set up their gangster governments. That's what those sign-toters want—and it's nothing like democracy."

He turned to O'Reilly. "They'll have a delegation in the mayor's office tomorrow morning and a protest parade in City Hall Park," he predicted. "But I'm not relaxing the search an iota. I don't relish pushing people around, but I'm not going to throw them to the crooks and gunmen because I'm too yellow to do my job."

The inspector's driver, awing the car eastward toward the warehouse district along the East River. Dilapidated tenements, many of them vacant and boarded up, loomed ahead in the sparsely populated section like giant ruins. Once this had been the city's most nosome, overpopulated slum; but it had degenerated so greatly that even the poorest families moved out. Now it was a nocturnal abyss of echoing emptiness, of vast warehouses manned by a single lonely watchman, of drunken derelicts and petty pilferers; where huge gray rats prowled along the waterfront and fish merchants bickered and haggled at the Fulton Market in the early morning hours.

Sighting a lieutenant conferring with a dozen patrolmen under a street lamp on Market Slip, near the Manhattan Bridge, Inspector Ryan again ordered his driver to stop.

The lieutenant, saluting respectfully, reported the progress of the hunt in his district.

"What about these boarded-up tenements?" Ryan demanded. "Have you been through all of them, checked every room?"

"Some of them are barred and padlocked," the lieutenant explained. "We can't get in without smashing down the doors."

"Then get the address of every locked building in this area," Ryan ordered. "Have it in my office by tomorrow morning. Either the owners will hand us the keys or we'll take them on the double!"

When the car was again under way, Inspector Ryan turned to O'Reilly.

"Nobody expects to find a hideout in those broken-down old wrecks," he said. "Which is just one more reason why I intend to give them an especially intensive search."

"I'll buy a piece of that hunch myself," O'Reilly affirmed. "I'll be in your office tomorrow morning with every tip I can find that's related to that section."

PRINTER STRIKE AT NORRISTOWN

Norristown, Pa., Dec. 8 (P)—Thirty-five members of the AFL-International Typographical Union did not report for work today at the Norristown Times Herald, an afternoon newspaper, and management announced the paper will be published by using a photo-engraving process.

An announcement carried on page one of today's editions read as follows: "The Times Herald is not going to take this fight lying down. It has been published for a century and a half and it will continue to be published, strike or no strike."

Management also issued a statement which declared:

"Members of the local unit of the International Typographical Union employed at the Norristown Times Herald voted yesterday to refuse wage concessions offered by the management amounting to $7.50 a week and failed to report for work today. The paper, therefore, is being photo-engraved."

No statement was offered by the union immediately. Previous wage rates were not immediately available.

and took $300.

The sexton found a hole yesterday large enough for a man to enter had been cut through the wall of the pastor's study into the vault.

It often happens that rain falls from a cloud but is evaporated before it reaches the earth.

When the car was again under way, Inspector Ryan turned to O'Reilly.

"Nobody expects to find a hideout in those broken-down old wrecks," he said. "Which is just one more reason why I intend to give them an especially intensive search."

A Xmas Serial

Santa And The Good Boy

SYNOPSIS: Mr. Sleek, an evil creature, will go away with Christmas unless Santa Claus can find one good child to save Santa Land.

CHAPTER THREE

Santa hunts for a Good Child

Santa Claus took off his red suit and shaved his whiskers and then, in disguise, went to the Land of Mizoo.

He went to the capital of the land, thinking "It is a good country and a good capital and surely there will be many good children there. I will have no trouble finding a boy or girl who will save Santa Land from Mr. Sleek."

First he went to a playground but there he saw several boys pouring fresh yellow paint down the slides and tying knots in the swing ropes so no one could possibly use them.

Then he went in a school yard but there he found a group of girls making fun of a little girl whose dress was torn and who had no coat nor lunch nor even enough courage to defend herself.

"Dear me," thought Santa. "I am not looking in the right places. Perhaps I had better go to the President and see if he can help me for I have very little time."

So he went to the President of Mizoo and said: "My name is Nick Olas and I am wondering if there is a good boy or a good girl in all your wonderful country."

"All our children are good," replied the President primly. "I will find the best children we have and you will see for yourself."

So the President called all the schools and the schools selected their best children and sped them to the President's office.

"Here they are," said the President proudly. "Talk to them and see how good they are."

Santa was very happy to have found so many good children so quickly. He went up to the first child—a girl with very wise eyes.

"Do you help your mother with her work?" asked Santa.

"Of course," said the girl. "I make my own bed and pick up my clothes and am careful with my toys."

"And do you get good marks at school?"

"Always A," said the girl. "I know the answer to everything."

"Tell me, then," asked Santa gently. "Is there Santa Claus?"

The girl laughed jokingly. "Of course not! That's just a joke!"

Santa shook his head sadly and went to the next child—a boy with a sharp nose.

"Why were you chosen as a good boy?" asked Santa.

"Because," explained the boy proudly. "I work after school and on Saturdays and make lots and lots of money."

"What do you do with the money?" asked Santa.

"I buy my clothes. And toys and ice cream sodas and go to the movies."

"And do you ever give any of your money away? Or buy someone else a toy or a soda or a movie?"

"Certainly not," retorted the boy. "I make the money and it is all for me."

Santa went to the next child, a little girl with glittering eyes.

"I am here," she said, "because I have such beautiful manners. I never forget to say thank you and excuse me and please. I always keep my voice low and I never grab things. I am very polite with my playmates."

"And do you love your playmates?" asked Santa.

"There are very few people worth loving," replied the girl. "My mother says it is enough if I am polite."

Santa's sorrow grew and grew as he went down the line for every child was the same. Each one was smart and diligent and polite and obedient but each had a heart of stone.

When he had finished with the last one he turned to the President and said: "I am sorry but the one I am looking for is not here."

"How stupid you are!" cried the President. "In all the world you could find no better children than these!"

But Santa did not hear because he had already gone away.

His heart was very heavy for he had begun to wonder if perhaps Mr. Sleek was not right and there was no such thing as a good boy or girl in the world.

"And if I do not find one within the next few hours," he thought

miserably, "there will never be another Christmas."

NEW PA. SCHOOL AUTHORITY HAS BIG JOB AHEAD

Harrisburg, Dec. 8 (AP)—Pennsylvania's new public school building authority faced a need of new structures costing an estimated $200,000,000, the department of public instruction said today.

Hubert Elcher, chief of the department's school plant division, said there "is a tremendous need not only for buildings to expand the present system but to replace buildings that are obsolete and fire hazards."

The new authority, authorized by the 1947 legislature, was organized at a meeting in the office of Gov. James H. Duff last week. The governor said consideration of 100 pending requests will start as soon as a technical staff can be named.

"Very few buildings have been replaced during World War Two or since then," Elcher explained, adding many structures have been lost through fires.

"Because of low assessment valuations and low borrowing capacity of school districts against the high cost of construction, school districts have been unable to do anything," he added. "That is why this agency is needed."

The authority will build the most badly needed schools from funds provided by the issuance of bonds to be liquidated over a long period of years from rentals paid by the school district using the structures.

All Types Involved Governor Duff said the methods used by the now defunct general state authority—Commonwealth Construction Agency—will be used only the program will be limited "strictly to schools."

Elcher said it was impossible to estimate the cost of the projects so far requested by school districts because of constantly fluctuating costs, but that the initial applications have come from all sections of the Commonwealth.

"All types of schools are involved—elementary, secondary and vocational," he added.

BRITAIN WILL MOVE ON MAY 15

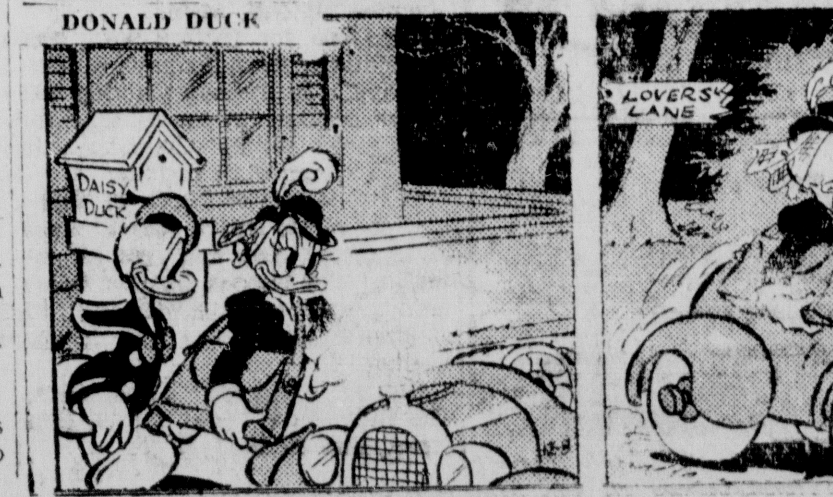

London, Dec. 8 (AP)—Britain has informed the United Nations she intends to surrender her Palestine mandate May 15, government sources reported today.

The British suggested that independent Arab and Jewish states come into existence June 1, after a two-week transition period.

The same informants said the British government had authorized creation of Arab and Jewish civil guard organization to maintain law and order in key Holy Land areas prior to gradual concentration of all British troops in evacuation "beach-heads" around Haifa.

British troops are to be withdrawn from the Jewish areas of Tel Aviv, Petah Tiqva and Ramat Gan this month, it was said.

Meanwhile this country's diplomatic representatives are continuing negotiations with Trans-Jordan to obtain units of the Arab Legion to police strategically-important parts of Arab Palestine, including oil pipeline and installation areas. Formations of the Arab Legion already are in the Holy Land.

Seek Husband In Murder Of Woman

Jeannette, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—A charge of murder filed by Police Chief Charles Walter spurred today a wide search for Franklin Robinson, 33, sought in the shotgun slaying of his divorced wife Friday night.

Chief Walter said he filed the murder charge yesterday before Alderman Percy Weigold. Robinson has been missing since the body of Mrs. Robinson, 25, was found near her home here. The couple had one son, Johnny, 18 months old.

An automobile identified by Chief Walter as that formerly owned by Robinson and the one in which he left Jeannette was found yesterday on a side street in Pittsburgh. A shotgun was found in the rear seat, the chief said. The automobile's title was recently transferred to Robinson's father.

Chief Walter said he thought the fugitive had taken a train from Pittsburgh but Pittsburgh police maintained a day-long watch over the auto. Robinson did not appear, however.

U.S. READY WITH NEW CURRENCY

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—The United States, determined not to let lack of an agreement with Russia worsen inflationary trends in Germany and Korea, has printed new currency for use in the American zones of both those occupied countries.

While the decision for coping with black market money troubles, confronting American military government authorities on both sides of the world was reached weeks ago, it was kept a top secret because of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in London.

There was no public announcement but government authorities privately confirmed the action.

The London conference, which opened November 25, has made no perceptible progress toward treaties for Germany and Austria.

American efforts to obtain Russian agreement on a unified government for Korea likewise have met with one failure after another. In the case of Germany, a new currency for the U. S. occupation zone would make it possible to outlaw large quantities of money Russia printed from plates supplied by this country in 1944.

DR. BUTLER, 85, DIES SUNDAY; RITES TUESDAY

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who died early yesterday of bronchial pneumonia, will be buried tomorrow after funeral services at 11 a. m. (EST) in St. Paul's chapel on the campus of Columbia university which he served as president for 44 years.

The eminent educator and world peace advocate, 85 years old and blind in his last years, died at St. Luke's hospital where he had been taken 10 days previous after an attack of indigestion.

Dr. Butler, president emeritus of Columbia since his retirement in 1945, requested that his funeral service be held in the chapel although it seats only about 700 persons.

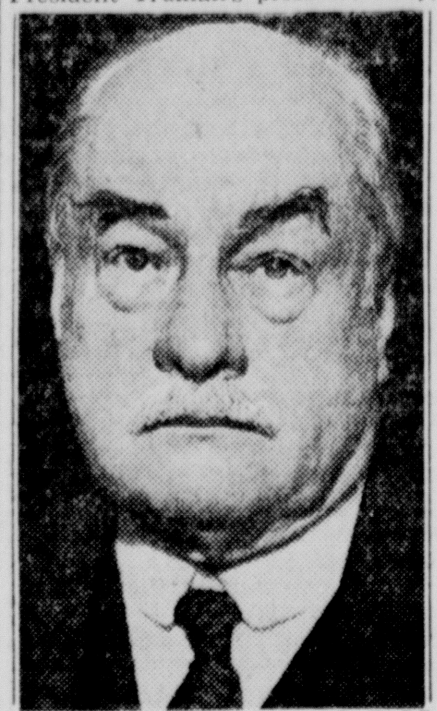

Spent Life at Columbia

The Rev. Raymond C. Knox, chaplain emeritus of the university, will conduct the service. Private burial will be in Cedar Lawn cemetery, Paterson, N. J. Dr. Frank D. Packenthal, acting president of Columbia, said the body will not lie in state.

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to become president of the university shortly. Dr. Butler, a native of Elizabeth, N. J., entered Columbia as a freshman at the age of 16 and from that time almost his entire life was spent there. He was decorated by 15 foreign nations and received honorary degrees from 38 institutions of learning.

Was Teacher and Dean

Numerous expressions of regret at Dr. Butler's death have been made, including a statement by President Truman's press secretary.

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER

Charles G. Ross, that "the President deeply regrets to hear of the death of such a distinguished American educator and citizen."

One of the major accomplishments in Columbia's great expansion during Dr. Butler's regime was the establishment of the nation's first graduate school of journalism. He served on the Columbia faculty and was dean from 1890 until he became president in 1901.

After 20 years as president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, he resigned in 1945 because of physical infirmities. The next year he announced he was to

REDS IN ITALY SHOW STRENGTH IN BIG PARADE

Rome, Dec. 8 (AP)—Thousands of singing Partisans in red regalia paraded through Rome yesterday and paid tribute at the tomb of the unknown soldier and at the graves of victims of the Nazis.

Traffic was snarled for hours as the marchers, estimated at 10,000 by police, strode through the capital lifting clenched fists to cheering crowds, many of whom replied with the Communist salute.

Fourteen hundred delegates to the "First National Congress of the Resistance" accompanied the marchers to the tomb of the unknown soldier, where the Italian News Agency ANSA estimated that 60,000 were gathered.

All Wore Red

Every Partisan wore something red and many carried red flags. There were some middle-aged men and a number of cripples in the parade, but the majority were youths bronzed and fit.

The demonstration was regarded as an indication of the strength of tally blind. His mind remained vigorous and he continued active interest in national and international affairs.

In 1931, Dr. Butler shared the Nobel Peace prize with Jane Addams. He had been a leading advocate of the League of Nations and World Court. In 1912, he was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for vice president.

GREENS PLACED

S. Lester Scott was at the piano.

Mrs. Richard A. Brown, president of the YWCA board of directors gave an address of welcome and lighted the ceremonial fire. Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh and Mrs. A. A. Maust were in charge of the devotional period with Mrs. Maust reading the message from St. Luke and Mrs. Gresh offering the prayer.

Special Music

Selections were given by a high school trio and by Reginald Dunkinson, and Joyce Kendlehart.

Following the program, members of various organizations affiliated with the Y activities decorated the exterior and interior of the building with Christmas trimmings.

Assisting Mrs. Ogden, chairman of the membership committee, were Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Floyd A. Carroll, Miss Rosea Armor, Mrs. Gresh and Miss Oma Furney. Mrs. Carroll was in charge of special lighting effects for the tableaux and Miss Armor in charge of costumes.

Re-examination Of Ex-officers Looms

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Compulsory re-examination of more than 35,000 former officers retired for physical disabilities loomed today along with the possibility that some might be due for cuts in their tax-free retirement pay.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal disclosed that an Army-Navy personnel board has recommended that all persons now retired for physical reasons be re-examined, and that they be required to take periodic re-examinations in the future.

In addition, the board suggested that compensation for physical disability be related to the percentage of actual disability, rather than a flat three-fourths of base pay.

The percentage system is the one in use by the Veterans Administration which handles payments to those whose disability occurred after their retirement.

The opposition which Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrat government faces from the Communists, who for the past 17 days have been waging a "war of nerves."

Similar demonstrations were held in Florence, Bologna, Genoa and Milan.

De Gasperi continued meanwhile his efforts to bring two small moderate Left parties into the government and strengthen it against the far Left. Some observers expressed belief that an agreement might be reached today or tomorrow.

New Demands

The threat of a general strike in Rome in protest against the death of a demonstrator in a clash with police received regular union backing yesterday. The joint union council served these additional demands:

1. Make public the results of the investigation and punish the "guilty" police.
2. Appropriate the equivalent of $16,667,000 immediately for make-work projects.
3. Give Christmas doles to all jobless by December 25.

A I D E — Kay Morstad, New York fashion model from Fargo, N. D., was picked by members of the White House News Photographers Assn. as their aide at their annual photographic exhibit, which had President Truman as guest of honor.

that enough additional money will be received to make up the fourth package.

Make Christmas Plans

Mrs. H. S. Fox, chairman of the Christmas program, reported that a series of pantomimes will be given in the church the night of December 21. Her committee consists of Mrs. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. Fissel, Mrs. Wilson Rohrbaugh, Miss Dora Rohrbaugh, Miss Frances Gilbert, Mrs. Clarence McClell, Miss Myrtle Sheely and Mrs. E. J. Yoder. Charles Kuhns' class is in charge of properties and Mrs. Jennings Collings' class will take care of costumes. On the morning of that Sunday at the regular church school hour a special program will also be given. An untrimmed tree will be placed in the main room and members will place thereon their unwrapped gifts of bright colored mittens, socks, scarves, etc., containing their gift cards. After Christmas these will be taken from the tree by the Social Service committee of the Women's Guild and delivered to the Church World Service at New Windsor, Md., for shipment overseas.

The group renewed the subscription for a daily devotional book for each officer and teacher. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Clyde Spangler and Charles Kuhns represented the school at the recent planning conference of the Adams County Council of Christian Education and reported on the projects for the coming year. The resignation of Mrs. David Pitzer as teacher of the second-year Junior class was accepted with regret. Mrs. Pitzer has moved from Gettysburg. The next meeting of the board will be held at the parsonage on January 2. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Listen Intently

The main Krupp defendant is Alfred Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, head of the armament dynasty since 1943. His father, Gustav Krupp, will not be tried because he has been pronounced senile and ill.

Eleven of the company's chief officials also are on trial.

The defendants listened intently as the prosecution told the story of the House of Krupp from the post-World War I period, when it secretly armed in violation of the Versailles Treaty, to the collapse of the Nazi Reich.

The prosecution devoted most of its time in the opening statement to the first count of crimes against peace, pointing out that the other charges of plundering in occupied countries and employing and mistreating an estimated 100,000 slave workers grew out of it.

ATHEIST TAKES CASE TO COURT

By PAUL M. YOST

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—An atheist mother's fight to ban religious education classes from an Illinois public school goes before the Supreme Court today for a final decision.

Mrs. Vashti McCollum appealed to the high tribunal to halt such classes after Illinois courts refused to do so. She said they threaten to break down the constitutional wall between church and state and, if allowed to develop without limitation will defeat the purposes of the public school.

The classes are conducted in Champaign school buildings during school hours. They are sponsored and financed by the Champaign Council on Religious Education. The council says they are non-sectarian because the material used was collected from many sources by many persons. The organization is made up of representatives of the Jewish, Roman Catholic and Protestant faiths.

Teachers for the religious classes are provided by the council. The regular school faculty takes no part in the instruction.

Mrs. McCollum, the wife of a University of Illinois professor, complained that her son, James Terry McCollum, was embarrassed because he was the only child in his room who did not take religious instruction.

Yugoslavia Signs Hungarian Treaty

Budapest, Dec. 8 (AP)—Premier Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia and Premier Lajos Dinnyes of Hungary signed today a treaty of friendship and mutual military assistance.

Neither premier made any comment after affixing his name to the red leather-bound copy of the pact in the council chamber of the Hungarian parliament, but attending officials of both governments applauded briefly.

Tito, who signed a 20-year military assistance pact with Bulgaria last month, is expected to proceed to Romania later this week to complete a four-power security bloc in South-eastern Europe.

The text of the Hungarian-Yugoslav treaty was expected to be released later today coincident with a press conference by Marshal Tito.

Mine Fire Rages 800 Ft. Underground

Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—Dense smoke hampered state and federal mine officials today as they sought to control a fire which for five days has been burning 800 feet underground at the M. and S. Coal company anthracite mine.

The smoldering blaze already has caused extensive damage in the 1,500-foot gunboat slope of the mine, burning and collapsing timbering and wrecking a fan system.

It is about a mile away from the actual operating section of the mine where some $600,000 worth of equipment is located. Workmen are moving this equipment to higher sections in an effort to escape possible water damage.

The colliery has been closed since Thursday, idling 240 men who normally dig 1,400 tons daily. Company President A. J. Schrade of Scranton said no one was in the burning section. Cause of the fire is undetermined.

BOOST OIL PRICES

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 8 (AP)—Six Pennsylvania oil companies announced a 50-cent boost in crude oil prices, the increase ups the price to $5 a barrel. The Keystone State firms are South Pennoil company, Bradford; Valvoline Oil company, Butler; Quaker State Oil company, Oil City; Waverly Oil company, Pittsburgh; Freedom Oil company, Beaver, and Republic Oil Refining company, Pittsburgh.

VETERANS BALKS

McKeesport, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—Forty-two veterans who bought homes in a nearby private development have decided to withhold mortgage payments on their GI loans in an effort to force government action on their complaint they were over-charged for their houses. The group decided yesterday to make their payments into an escrow account instead of to the Reconstruction Finance corporation.
